

NATPE Annual BRANDON TARTIKOFF LEGACY AWARDS

USA Today photo by Stephen Lefkovits

Named in honor of one of television's greatest programmers, the Brandon Tartikoff Legacy Awards recognize a select group of television professionals who exhibit similar characteristics, including extraordinary passion, leadership, independence and vision in the process of creating television programming.

Past honorees have included:

Gail Berman, Carole Black, Steven Bochco, Mark Burnett, James Burrows, Stephen J. Cannell, Marcy Carsey, Marc Cherry, Harry Friedman, Bonnie Hammer, Ken Lowe, Caryn Mandabach, Pat Mitchell, Tom Werner, Dick Wolf and Anthony E. Zuicker.

One of television's greatest programmers and a continuing source of inspiration, Tartikoff spent 11 years as head of entertainment programming for NBC.

The Brandon Tartikoff Legacy Awards celebrate the extraordinary passion, leadership, independence and vision in creating television programming that defined Tartikoff's character and career.

Individuals are nominated for Award consideration with the oversight of NATPE's Executive Committee and the executive editorial staffs of Broadcasting & Cable, Multichannel News and Variety.

Broadcasting & Cable, Multichannel News, Variety and NBC Universal are proud sponsors of this prestigious event.

The 5th annual Legacy Awards are presented at a special cocktail reception on Monday, January 28, 2008 at 6pm

If you would like to purchase tickets to the event at $100 per ticket, contact The NATPE Marketing Department, 310-453-4440 ext. 215, or email marketing@natpe.org. Ticket proceeds benefit the NATPE Educational Foundation.

For all the latest information, please go to www.NATPE.org