

FREE

Student Career Workshop

Saturday, October 4, 2008

10:00 am - 1:30 pm

KING 5 TV

333 Dexter Avenue North
Seattle, WA 98109
(206) 448-5555

*If the station parking lot is full,
free parking is available on the street.*

Learn from pros working in the TV industry

The Educational Foundation of NATPE, the National Association of TV Program Executives founded in 1963, in association with King 5 TV and the Northwest Chapter of the National Academy of TV Arts & Sciences, invite students and faculty from colleges and universities throughout the Northwest to attend a FREE workshop on Saturday, October 4, 2008.

The day will start with breakfast at 9:00 am, presentations from 10:00 - 1:30 pm, followed by lunch and networking with the panelists. This is the 14th in an acclaimed series that has taken place in New York, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Boston, Atlanta, Washington DC, Phoenix, Miami, Denver, St. Louis, San Diego, Austin, and New Orleans.

The goal of the workshop is to inform students of the many careers in the communications field and to prepare and guide them through the process of working in the industry.

CAREER WORKSHOP INCLUDES:

- A panel discussion with representatives from various TV stations, production houses, ad agencies, and cable networks telling how they got started and what's it like to work in this exciting business.
- Topics addressed: preparing resumes, successful interviewing, networking and developing a career strategy
- A general Q&A session
- Face-to-face interaction with the panelists
- 9:00 am breakfast and 1:30 pm lunch
- Space is Limited

NATIONAL ACADEMY OF TELEVISION
ARTS & SCIENCES

RSVPs to dblock@earthlink.net are essential from all attendees.
Students should include their full name, educational institution, class year, and their major.